Thornton Designs As President of the Peace River

OTTAWA, July 19.—Sir Henry Thornton has resigned as president of the C. N. R. S. J. Hufferford, vice-president, will be acting president. Although the date of resignation of Sir Henry would be effective was not definitely stated Tuesday, it is understood he will leave the post on August 1.

Gold Miners Are Making Good Pay On The Peace

That gold miners were making good money on the Peace was the report brought by Magistrate A. E. Galloway, who returned from Cherry Point, where he held court.

His Worship, in conversation with Tribune men, said that he met three men at the mouth of Moose Creek, where Miss Stone, school teacher, lost her life, who informed him that the three were making between $10 and $20 a day and not working too hard at that. They have been on the land for some time, and are not worrying about hard times. They have a snug cabin and the wife of one of the men keeps house.

The case tried was Mark Powers vs. Fred Yearly, the charge being assault. The case was dismissed.

His Worship said that Cherry Point district was a large area of good land extending over the B. C. boundary.

Robertson Wins Final in the Golf Tournament

On Sunday morning the finals in the first night of the match play golf tournament held at the Royal Canadian Golf and Country Club was played off between J. B. Robertson and G. A. Duncan. The weather was ideal for golf.

Robertson played a wonderful game, scoring par golf nearly all the way. Duncan, too, was well, but he had on his right thumb was a bad handicap and bothered him badly. The play of the game was as follows:

On hole one Duncan drove off, getting over two hundred yards right down the middle of the fairway. Robertson drove about the same distance, with a little puff, which landed him in the rough. He dubbed his second for back approach to the pin and sunk his putt for a five. "Jim" took a six.

Both players got good drives on the second hole and their second shots were close to the green, but it took them four more each to sink the elusive ball.

At the third hole Robertson's second was trapped with the sand near the green and his third shot was a crawl and rolled off the green. Duncan's second landed within five feet of the cup, but he failed to sink it and took a four, his opponent taking a five. Duncan was up.

From the fourth tee the drives were about a par. Robertson's ball was in the rough, and his second went short about fifty yards. Duncan was on the green with his second, but failed to get an eagle. He took a four and Robertson a five. This made George three up in the first four holes.

From then on Jim Robertson played par golf, but George did not seem able to do anything right except from the tee. On the fifth both got good drives and second shots, but Duncan was over the green with his third, while Jim's third was on the edge. Duncan fell short with his fourth and took six to tie out. Robertson took five.

At the sixth the drives were about (Continued on Page 8)

The following other points in the Peace River will be visited:

Father—Sunday, July 24, at 8 p.m.
Peace River—Monday, July 25, at 8 p.m.
Fairview—Tuesday, July 26, at 8 p.m.

Grande Prairie—Wednesday, July 27, at 8 p.m.
Spirit River—Thursday, July 28, at 2 p.m.
Hight Prairie—Friday, July 29, at 8 p.m.

Kinross—Saturday, July 30, at 8 p.m.

Mr. Howson, who is considered one of the best debaters in the house, is one of those Canadians born on a farm who has gradually advanced himself to his present position, where he is being seriously considered for the future leader of the Liberal party.

A few highlights on his career will be given in this article. William R. Howson is a Canadian, born on a farm in Peterborough, Ontario, on March 6, 1885, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Howson. He was educated in the public and model schools at Norwood, where he taught school for a period. In 1902 he entered the University of Toronto, where he was a member of the University of Toronto, where he was a member of the University of Toronto, where he was a member of the University of Toronto.

He is now placed with his company's investments here and with the prospects of this country, that he is going to recommend to his board of directors that more loans be made at once in the west.

Pitcher Bredin of Bear Lake is a director of the Commercial Life and Mr. Glenwright says that Bredin, when at the head office of the company, never failed to emphasize the superiority of this country to other farming districts of the West.

The Commercial Life is a western company, the head office being located in Edmonton.

Predicts Early Ontario Election

S. C. Tweed, M.P.P., of Waterloo, Ont., accompanied Mr. Glenwright, who was just out here on his way trip for the purpose of looking over the country.

"The Grande Prairie district," Mr. Tweed remarked, "is very different from what I expected to find. The country has lost its appearance of the frontier and farm buildings and cultivated land compare favorably with any district in western Canada—in fact, with any in southern Ontario."

"I motored from Grande Prairie to Dawson Creek. The hotels are good. 'Mornington' has a very fine money loaned in this district are having a better experience with them than they were with their loans in the older sections of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. It is hoped that through this territory without being impressed by the fine type of men and women who are helping build up this north country."

He visited the Dominion Experimental Farm at Beaverlodge. Mr. Albert, the superintendent, is carrying on a fine work and it is hoped that the Dominion government will give further support to this good work.

"I spent some time at the home of Mr. Herman Trevis. He has done a great deal to help build up the river country in eastern Canada. In Ontario his name is as well known to the Ontario farmers as the leaders of our two old political parties."

Mr. Tweed pointed to Ontario, pointing to an early election, said Mr. Tweed, such as the recent large election given out for new highway construction and the offering of a $25,000 prize for the best road built direct to the people at 97.

The sports were all of a high order and the committee in charge accomplished on running the program off on schedule.

Northfield again came into prominence, winning the basketball game out in the final against Treves Creek in the basketball.

Passed Away Suddenly in Front of Home on Eve of Departure to Join Family

DeBolt Stampede And Sports the Best Ever

EDMONTON, July 20.—Just on the eve of his appointment as post of provincial secretary and minister of mines, Hon. Vernon Smith, minister of railways and telephones for the province of Alberta, fell at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday on the sidewalk outside of his home, a victim of a fatal heart attack.

He was preparing to leave his residence to join his wife and five children at their summer home at Pigeon Lake.

Ed. Neil-Hen, Vernon Smith, who represented Camrose and was always elected by a large majority, entered the cabinet under Hon. H. H. Greenfield as minister of railways in 1921.

Possibly no member of the cabinet was better known in the Peace River than Mr. Smith, who made frequent visits here in the interests of his department.

Always approachable, he was perhaps the most popular member of the government.

There was just any other man, who was responsible for selling the provincially owned railways.

He was a party leader. Mr. Smith's death will be received with sympathy by the people of the province which he served for so many years.

equal, but George dubbed his second and Jim won the match with his third. Jim played a nice second to the right of the green, pin high, but not too far, ever, three more to hole out. Duncan took seven.

In the seventh stanza both players were on the edge of the green in their eighth, Robertson hit a nice putt for a four. Duncan missed the cup by an inch and took five. The match was now all square.

On the next hole Jim Robertson got a beautiful drive of about 200 yards, landing on the fairway. George, who was not so fortunate, losing his ball and having to play his third. Robertson made it in par 4 and Duncan in 6.

At the club house George was on the green about five feet from the cup in his fourth and Jim was on the edge of the green and played his fifth to within five feet of the hole. Duncan played his fifth, but went over the top of the cup about two inches from the hole. Both took a six.

This ended the first round, with Robertson one up. Lunch was then partaken of at the club house and then, after a short rest, the second round was played.

With his first swing Robertson got a nice drive, straight as an arrow, for about 200 yards and played his second about 30 yards from the edge of the green, hitting out his third with his masher. Duncan took a six.

On the second hole Robertson made it in par and Duncan took a six. Both players took a four on the third.

On the fourth Jim made a nice long drive, but with a little side, Duncan got into the rough, but both were on the edge of the green, with the third stroke, Robertson getting a five and Duncan one up. The match was now all square.

The players having the fifth hole with sides. This made the match dormie four in favor of Robertson.

Again Jim connected with a long drive and landed on the edge of green number one, but he had quite a time finding it. Just at this particular moment it happened that Mr. D. I. McPhee was putting on his hat and after he had looked out his putt, Jim asked him if he had seen a ball land around there. "Mac" then looked over the ball that he had sunk and found it wasn't his.

The ball was found about fifty yards beyond the green. "Mac" had surely underestimated his distance and did not know. Robertson then dropped his ball as near as could be judged to where it had been found and played a nice second a little to the left of the green, pin high, hitting out in five. George took a six. This ended the match.

Up to this point of play Jim Robertson had played par golf and had a wonderful chance to make a real score, but from then on he got into lots of trouble.

Both players took seven on the dynamite hole, Jim getting in the rough and Duncan taking a ball. On the eighth hole George made a five and Robertson a six.

With good luck on the last hole, but Jim dubbed two masher shots, taking a seven to sink the pin. George got a par five.

THE SCORES FOR THE SECOND ROUND WERE NOT EQUALLED. ROBERTSON TAKING ONE OVER HIS FIRST ROUND FOR A 47 AND DUNCAN A 51.
